Subject: Looking for Coaches to Become Learning Facilitators

We are currently looking for coaches who may be interested in becoming a Learning Facilitator for the Introduction to Competition course. This means that you are interested in becoming the person who delivers the course and teaches upcoming coaches.

The process to become a Learning Facilitator involves four parts. The first being a NCCP Core Training for Learning Facilitators course. There are currently 2 of these courses scheduled through the Coaches Association of Ontario, both are booked for October 5th, 2024:

Oct. 5 – Toronto Pan Am Sports Centre - $150.00

Oct. 5 – Algonquin College - $144.00

Alternatively, if we can get enough interest, we will schedule our own course, which will cost anywhere from $110.00 - $130.00, based on the number of participants.

If you have coaches interested in becoming a Learning Facilitator, please let me know, or have them reach out to me directly, meghanblewitt@o5pba.ca, as we need to ensure that we have the interest before we proceed with booking a course.

Should you have any questions, please contact me directly.

Thank you,

Meghan Blewitt
